

100 Bible Passages That Encourage Christian Giving & Generosity

By: Brian Kluth, president of the Christian Stewardship Association

Did you know...

The percentage of income that Christians give to God's work has been declining for 26 years (depending on the church or denomination, Christians now give 1½% to 3½% of their income to God's work)!

Larry Burkett of Christian Financial Concepts estimates only 5% of Christians give 10% or more!

Barna Research reports that although 17% of Christians say they "tithe", only 3% actually give 10% or more of their income to God's work!

90% of churches have no active plan to teach biblical financial or giving principles to their congregation!

85% of pastors feel unequipped, uncomfortable and untrained to teach biblical financial and giving principles!

The average church budget in America DECREASED 15% this past year!

In light of these alarming statistics, here are some encouraging ideas and practical ways a church or ministry can use Scripture passages to teach and encourage God's people in faithful Christian giving and joyful generosity:

Each week, have a giving verse in the bulletin.

Show a giving verse on the screen (overhead or video projection) while receiving the offering.

Read one giving verse each week before receiving the offering.

Use verses in bulletins, newsletter or written materials to encourage giving.

Before receiving the offering, have a lay people person choose a "favorite verse" from this list and have them give a brief testimony (1-2 minutes) on how God taught them to be a faithful giver.

Reference appropriate verses or use key verses as theme verses for funding initiatives (building drives, missions emphasis, special offerings to help the needy, annual stewardship campaign, etc.).

Use one or more of these verses to write an article in a church newsletter, Christian magazine, ministry periodical or newsletter that will encourage biblical generosity.

Use these verses to help prepare a sermon or teaching lesson.
